DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings were received on 9/9/2010. These drawings are entered.

Specification

2. The correction to the specification was received on 9/9/2010. These corrections are entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 38-74 are allowed.
4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The independent claims describe an alternation network for use with a content addressable memory for implementing a divide and conquer algorithm, the network comprising: a plurality of alternation modules connected in series together, each module comprising: a plurality of cascaded logic gates arranged to propagate a match parity signal via the gates along at least part of a matching result vector, the matching result vector being generated by execution of a matching instruction on the content addressable memory, and the logic gates being configured to change the parity of the match parity signal in accordance with the matching result vector; and a vector output arranged to output a parity level vector of the propagated match parity signal present at the each gate of the plurality of logic gates; a logic network for dividing the matching result vector into an odd match vector and an even match vector representing respectively odd and even numbered elements of the matching result vector, by use of the parity level vector; and means for writing a selected one of the odd and even match vectors to the content addressable memory. Marriott et al. "Towards the automated design of application specific array processors", Grosspietsch et al. "The Associative Processor System CAPRA: Architecture and Applications" and Akerib et al. US Patent No. 5974521 all describe subject matter considered to be related to the invention but do not specifically teach or suggest the specific limitations described in the claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
